Hawaiian GINGERS

RED GINGER

Torch Ginger is the most striking of the Ginger family. Its unusually large size contributes greatly to its use as a focal point in arrangements. The heads are shaped between an oval and a round shape and can be displayed either closed or opened, with the petals peeled back.

TORCH GINGER

SHELL GINGER

Shell Ginger is the most delicate of the Ginger family. Its beauty is accentuated by a graceful natural curve of the pink-tipped white blossoms. Effective for large displays, but the 30 to 40 pods in the head are wonderful for corsages.

HERE ARE FLOWERS THAT MAKE PEOPLE STOP AND LOOK. THEY SHOULD BE USED NOT ONLY ON SPECIAL OCCASIONS, BUT TOGETHER WITH YOUR LOCAL FLOWERS TO GIVE YOUR ARRANGEMENTS A DISTINCTIVE LOOK.
